MARSHAL MIZELL'S REPORT.

The Killing of Deputy Marshal Saunder

Near Quincy, Florida. WASHINGTON, February 19.—The report of John R. Mizell, United States marshal of Florida, in regard to the Saunders case was made public today. He says that on the 12th he received a telegram from Deputy Marshal W. B. Saunders, at Pensacola, saving that he would leave that night for Quincy for a prisoner in jail there, and asking that the rshal send him any help he might call for while there. He also replied by telegraph that he would leave Jacksonville that night and meet Saunders at Quincy. He left Jack-sonville on the 7:30 o'clock train on the night sonvine on the 7:30 o'clock train on the night of the 12th, taking with him Special Deputy Langford, and they arrived at Quincy about 3 o'clock next morning. They returned about 1 o'clock having failed to find their man. About 10:50 o'clock a. m. Wi'lam M. McFarlin, of Quincy, called at the hotel to see Saunders. He seemed much surprised to find me there, but greeted me in a friendly manner and walked over to the courthouse where I went to make some in quiries about a venire for jurors for the United States court and left me there. At dinner time he returned and invited me and Captain Allison, who was present, to dine with him at the hotel and we accepted the invitation. Soon after McFarlin invited me to take a drive with him that evening, but I declined. We then left the hotel and on the street met Saunders and Langford. McFarlin urged Saunders to come in and dine with him, but Saunders replied that he had been to dinner, and McFarlin then said that he (Saunders) must take a drive with him. I called Saunders away, and took him to his room, where I told him that I had every reason to believe that there was a plot to murder him, and he must pay no attention to the pretenses of friendship, but out in the country, and waited at the hotel for

The sheriff asked Mitchell if he killed Saunders and he said "no." He then asked him if fie knew who did and he said "no." He would make no further statements. The body was carried out of the buggy and carried into the courthouse, and Mitchell drove off. I learned afterwards, from a reliable source, that Saunders was seen driving out of town in a buggy with Mitchell and McFarlin, and I found in Saunders's pocket his pistol, every barrel loaded, and also a card which McFarlin had left at the hotel for him in the afternoon. The prisoner mentioned in Saunders's telegram was a colored man, who had been arrested by the sheriff of Gadsden county for violation of the postal laws and confined in Quincy jail.

After the murder of Saunders I received intimations from friendly sources that I was not safe in that neighborhood, and it would be well for me to leave as quietly as possible. Washington, February 19.—The resolution heretofore offered in the senate by Mr. Chandler, calling on the attorney general for information as to the assassination of W. B. Mr. Blair, however, yielded the floor to Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, on whose motion the senate bill appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Fort Dodge, Iowa, was taken from the calendar and passed—Mr. Call calling attention to the fact that this was the fourth public building bill passed for Iowa at this session.

On motion of Mr. Stockbridge, the senate bill appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Lansing, Mich., was taken from the calendar and passed.

Mr. Blair then resumed his argument in favor of the education bill.

Washington, February 19.—The reports of the action of the body upon the British extradition yesterday, printed in the papers today, was the cause of the question being considered today. Among the measures suggested as likely to accomplish the desired end, was one to entirely clear the senate wing of the capitol during expentive sessions of all persons expense. entirely clear the senate wing of the capitol during executive sessions of all persons except senators and those employes whose duties require them to be present. One senator was of the opinion that the committee on rules should investigate the subject, and report what is necessary to secure the desired privacy of proceedings, but this was not pressed, inasmuch as the resolution providing for investigation had already been referred to another committee based upon reports of the action of the senate on Indian Commissioner Morgan's nomination. Another senator expressed the opinion that the senate ought either to secure absolute secrecy through its members and employes, or else arrange to furnish a statement of business transacted for publication. Under the present condition of things, injustice is often done to a senator by the publication of a false report respecting his action in the senate, and he is compelled to suffer under it, being precluded from asking or making a correction.

The senate adjourned without taking any action. Sentiment is growing among members inflavor of the position taken by Senators Teller and Platt, that nominations should be considered in legislative session, or if that cannot be done, of making public at once the action of the senate thereon. With his the officers began work, and at Clarkston secured from Mr. Jolly the description of two men who had been in that place the morning before, and who had eater supper at his house.

One of the descriptions suited the dead man. But who was the other?

Among others to whom the descriptions were repeated was Mr. Henry McCord, of Atlanta, and as he heard the stories, he asked:

"And you say he wore a high silk hat?"

"Yes," answered the officer.

"Then I know where he is. He ought to be about Conyers by this time. I was standing on the rear plate form of the train as we came down and just below Lithonia, he passed along beside the track walking towards Conyers."

The officers and Mr. McCord, too, telegraphed Marshal Austin, of Conyers, describing the party and just at the edge of the town, Deputy Marshal Smith found a man answering the description. Revier was no stranger to those who gathered about him when he reached the Mountain.

ALBANY, N. Y., February 19.—The world's fair conference report was adopted in the assembly by a vote of 119 to 1, Mr. King, of New York, voting in the negative. The senate this afternoon agreed to the conference report. The bill now goes to the governor, who has announced that he will sign it.

The senate this afternoon passed the Saxton ballot reform bill by a vote of 19 to 9. His home had been there once, and near there he married a popular, accomplished young lady. Before Revier had reached Stone Mountain, Revier's coat and hat were then taken from him and others were given him. On top of the hat were three or four spots larger than a large pin-head, and one of these Dr. Summy removed. and these photographs now play a prominent part in the trial.

The two men, who were at Clarkston, carried a small satchel and a package about eighteen inches long. Revier had the satchel, and in it was something which rattled as he threw it over his shoulder. The other man carried the package and paid for the twa suppers, exhibiting quite a roll of bills. Tho satchel, however, could not be found, but several weeks after the murder a brace, some bits and some dynamite were found in a stump near Lithonia, and these are now in evidence against the prisoner.

This is the story of the crime for which Revier is now being tried for his life.

When the prisoner was led from the jail this morning by Sheriff Austin he was met by his wife, and the meeting was affecting indeed. The prisoner entered the courtroom with her, and advancing to a table, around which the attorneys were sitting, took a chair between Colonel Milton Candler and Colonel Gleaton. He was dressed neatly and his linen was as white as could be. A large sear hung from his collar, and upon it displayed conspicuously was a Masonic pin. He appeared to be enjoying fine heaith and is much stouter than he was a year ago. As he sat down his wife drew a chair close to him, and with interest watched everything.

It was II o'clock when a jury was finished, and the prisoner entered his plea. The jury is:

1. J. W. Wiggins, stonecutter, of Lithonia.

The prisoner's wife watched the jury foration with the keenest interest, and when licitor Candler produced the indictment she turned her attention to him.

And that indictment is the only one of the kind ever drawn in Georgia.

It reads as all other indictments do . At the bottom, but still in the body of the paper, is a photograph of the dead man. The paper says:

 April 2d, '89, with force and arms, and with a steel tool and with a pistol, did unlawfully and with malice aforethought kill and murder a man whose name is to the jurors aforesaid unknown, but who registered his name on the hotel register at the town of Stone Mountain, in said county, as Charles F. The justice told the story of the inquest, identified the photograph of the dead man as the same in the bill, and dwelt upon a description of the face. As he went along with the story Mrs. Revier's interest increased. At first she listened carefully, but as the justice progressed in his narrative her attention became wenderful. Shadder after shudder was perceptible as the condition of the dead man was described, and before the conclusion was reached it was plain to all observers that she was horrified.

Dr. Summy described the nature of the wounds and said that either would have produced death.

The work today has been marked by close fighting between the attorneys. Every inch of the ground has been hotly contested and Judge Clark has had to give decision after decision. But in every instance his rulings were so clear and plain that the audience went with him.

RALEIGH, N. C., February 19.—News was re-ceived here today of a series of incendiary fires at Rocky Mount. The trouble seems to have at Rocky Mount. The trouble seems to have grown out of some unpleasantness in connection with the negro emigration matter. On Monday night the extensive carriage works of Hackney Bros., were destroyed by fire, of incendiary origin. Last night buildings at the fair grounds at Rocky Mount, were fired by negroes, the object being, it is thought to draw a crowd there from the town that work of destruction might be completed. No further trouble occurred, however, but the town is thoroughly patrolled, as other incendiary work is hourly apprehended.

CHICAGO, February 19—J. B. Keiley, the book canvasser arrested in St. Louis, charged with complicity in the Cronin tragedy, arrived in Chicago tonight. Mrs. Conklin and Frank Scanlan, who saw the person with whom Dr. Cronin drove away on the night of May 4th, were given a look at Kelly. Both failed to identify him as the driver of the celebrated white horse. Scanlan declared himself positive that Kelly was not the man. The question of whether Kelley might not be the mysterious Simond's man, supposed to have purchased the furniture for the Carlson cottage, was then taken up and is pending.

The Murderer Cannot Look His Victim in the Face—Mrs. Wyly Faints When Her Husband Is Released.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., February 19.—[Special.] John Wyly, who was accused by Dick Hawes of having murdered the latter's wife and children for $300, was tried today and discharged.

The only evidence of importance against Wyly was that of Dick Hawes himself.

ON THE STAND TWO HOURS. Hawes was on the stand nearly two hours, and told in substance the same story he told Sheriff Smith and his brother Jim two weeks ago. Hawes could not look Wyly in the face, and on cross examination he became badly con-fused several times. He told his story very glibly until he came to the murder of little May, his oldest child, and then he hesitated.

CLAIMS THE COURT'S PROTECTION. Cross examined he was asked: "What did you do with May on the Monday night she was killed?"

"I brought her to the city that night."
"Then what did you do with her?"

"I refuse to answer."
"Do you know how she was killed?" Again Hawes refused to answer, and when the attorneys for Wyly pressed the question, he appealed to the court to sustain him in his refusal to answer the question.

Under the hot fire of cross-questions Hawes grew very restless, pulled nervously at his mustache, and at times his words were almost inaudible. He seemed much relieved when he was finally allowed to leave the stand.

WYLY IS DISCHARGED. The courtroom was crowded to its utmost capacity, and hundreds of ladies took advantage of this—their last opportunity—to see the notorious murderer.

When the evidence was all in, the court promptly announced:

"The defendant is discharged."

The defendant is discharged."

THREE CHEERS GIVEN.

The decision was received with three cheers by the crowd, and nearly every one present pressed forward to congratulate Wyly. His wife, who was present during the trial, fainted when she heard the good news.

When told of the decision, Hawes frowned and said trans which heard the good news.

All that he would say, was that Dick told him nothing new. Dick was today offered $250 for his autobiography and a full confession, but declined the proposition.

After the discharge of Wyly, Jim Hawes had a long conference with Solicitor Hawkins, but the result of it could not be learned.

THE SHARON TRIAL. The Case Against the Sharon Prisoners Fall

Augusta, Ga., February 19 .- [Special.]-

The investigation of the witnesses in the Sharor postoffice conspiracy case failed to develop ensation today.

The defendants and their attorneys were not present, and there were not a dozen persons in the courtroom outside of the officers and witsses. The district attorney gave Postmaste Duckworth a long and minute examination but even to leading questions he did not succeed in making Duckworth say he apprehended any bodily harm. The facts were established that meetings were held and that committee were appointed to confer with Duckworth. that threatenening notices were appointed to confer with Duckworth, and that threatenening notices were posted on his door and he was burned in effigy, but these were not secrets, and are not new. The action of the people was published in the papers, and the report of each meeting, with the resolutions adopted, etc., have appeared in full imprint. DUCKWORTH ON THE STAND.

When Duckworth was questioned about the committee of ten waiting on him to procure his signature to a resignation of the office, he said they offered no threats as to what would be done if he did not sign it. When urged by the district attorney as to his reason for signing it, he he said he thought it might make things quieter and more peacable in the community. He testified that he was on the balcony of his boarding house the night of the effigy-burning, only a few yards distant from the noisy crowd, who were hooting and singing and firing pistols. Throughout the entire history of the affair, there is no evidence of any violence to anybody. While it is true that the citizens became excited and did some very foolish things, and made some silly threats in writing, and somebody is guilty of a technical violation of the statue in reference to intimidation, yet the facts remain that Duckworth had been for a week in the peaceful possession of the postoffice when these arrest were made, that nobody has ever offered him or anyone else the slightest violence, and that the government is going out of its way to make a sensation out of a childish ebullition of temper on the part of the community which had already settled back into its accustomed quiet and reconciled itself to the situation.

THE OTHER WITNESSES.

Besides Duckworth, his two clerks, his partner in his farm, and his landlady, were examined, but no new facts were elected. The case fell rather flat today, and outside of a technical violation of the statue in reference to intimidation pathing, here here never technical violation of the statue in reference to intimidation, nothing has been proven. Certainly nothing has been shown on the part of the people of Sharon that was nearly so great an outrage as the conduct of the United States marshal and his deputies in marching into a peaceful community and arresting leading law-abiding and representative citi-zens, with Winchester rifles in their hands, as zens, with winchester rines in their hands, as though they had been ordered to quell a riot. The action of the people of Sharon in not resenting such an irritating and menacing proceeding is very creditable to the good order of the community.

Another Road for Athens.

ATHENS, Ga., February, 19.—[Special.]—Athens seems pretty sure to have some railroad connection with the marble quarries of north Georgia. A letter from Mr. Proctor B Lawrence, president of the Etawah Valley railroad, to Mr. A. K. Childs, a director of railroad, to Mr. A. K. Childs, a director of the Northeastern railroad, explains the plans to be followed. He desired Mr. Childs to furnish the surveys, chart and profiles of the route laid out by the Northeastern company many years ago, and the letter intimates that such will be used in the construction of a new railroad. The marble companies wish a seaport connection, and no better can be suggested than the one which this letter suggests. It is proposed to run this line of railway from Tate, Ga., on the Macon and North Georgia railroad, to Luia, Ga., thence to Athens, and over the Covington and Macon to the sea. ALL SERENE AGAIN. THE EXPOSITION PEOPLE MEET

LAST NIGHT

And Pass Resolutions Calling on President Wylie and Vice-President Collier to Withdraw Their Resignations.

The clouds which threatened the peace and armony of the Piedmont exposition dir have been dispelled.

Captain Wylie will continue as president of the exposition company, and Mr. Collier's resignation has been withdrawn in order to give him an opportunity to reconsider his action in submitting it to the board of directors. The special meeting which was called for last night was a very important one, and when it adjourned every member who took part in debate felt that with Captain Wylie re ing as president of the exposition, the success of this year's enterprise is assured.

The directors present at the meeting were.

Mesrrs. Wilson, Spalding, Hope, Coolege, Phe lan, Kingsberry, Walker, Fitten, Hill, Dougherty, Grant, Castleman, Miles, Rice, Peters, Thompson, Snook, Gramling and J. A. Mil-

For several minutes after it was evident that no new comers were to be expected, Captain Wylie refrained from calling the meeting to order. He was evidently expecting some one, and it was not until Mr. Phelan stated that he had seen Mr. Collier and knew that he would not be present that Captain Wylie finally anounced that the meeting would proceed to

MR. KINGSBERRY IN THE CHAIR. After a moment's pause, Captain Wylie said that as he had some remarks to make, he would request Mr. Kingsberry to act as chair

Before doing so, Mr. Kingsberry said that he had a letter requesting information as to the race course, which he would like to know how to answer. He was given the required information, and he then took possession of the arm chair at the head of the table, and Captain Wylie began to speak.

He explained how at the last meeting of the stockholders, Mr.; Collier, at his request, submitted a resolution empowering the board of directors to sell the unused land of the exposition company to the extent of ninety acres, and apply the proceeds to the liquidation of the bonded indebtedness. He also explained how Mr. Spalding had introduced a resolution to the effect that the land should not be sold, and also providing that no private sale would be allowed without the consent of the majority of the stockholders.

THE IMPORTANCE OF HARMONY. Captain Wylie then continued by saying:
"I am fully convinced that in the action that was taken at the last meeting nobody meant to reflect on me, or on any one else; but I do think it showed a want of confidence, and I want this board to be perfectly harmonious. To show that I have no feeling whatever in the matter other than a kindly one, I will say that I am perfectly willing to work under any person who may be chosen president. I am even anxious to work because I that this year the welfare of the depends greatly on the of the exposition, and to make it a success I know that every man, woman and child must work for it. I wish to say that Mr child must work for it. I wish to say that Mr. Collier never saw that motion until he read it here, and as I drew it up myself I did not perhaps make my meaning clear. What I wished to have done was not to sell the land, but to have the authority to do so lodged with the board of directors, so that they might dispose of a part of the property at such time and in such way as seemed best to them.

Mr. Spalding, in arguing in support of his motion, stated that the by-laws made nine directors a quorum, and, as five were a majority of nine, it might occur that five men could sell the land. He, therefore, wished to make it needful for a majority of the stockholders to give their consent. I want to say that I have heard recently of the stock being sold for twenty-five cents I want to say that I have heard recently of the stock being sold for twenty-five cents on the dollar, and it would be easy if men are willing to sell for that amount, for one man to obtain the controlling interest and order! the sale. I am now carrying more of the stock than I can afford, and yet I would not sell a share of it. I thought at the last meeting that the directors should be given the power to sell the!!land. I think so now, and as I think perfect accord should exist between the think perfect accord should exist between the president and the directors I will ask you to accept my resignation. I have also in my hand Mr. Collier's resignation, but as he is not here I do not like to hand it in a matter of poncy.

"Allow me, gentlemen," interrupted Captain Wylie, "to retire from the room while you consider this matter." "I introduced the matter," said Mr. Jack "I introduced the matter," said Mr. Jack Spalding, "and I wish to explain my intentions. I came here thoroughly oppsed to the sale of the land, and I am still opposed to it as a matter of policy."

He then explained how, by the by-laws, the dispeters had without consulting.

He then explained how, by the by-laws, the directors had, without consulting the stockholders, the right to dispose of the land, and he wished merely to protest against any sales taking place at the present time.

"I had no intention," he continued, "of casting the slightest reflection on Mr. Wylie or on anybody else. They are the last men of all others that it could have reflected upon. Captain Wylie could not possibly have voted unless a tie had occurred. Not a scintilla of an inclination to reflect on anybody entered my mind, and if that resolution was personally distasteful to anybody, I wish to withdraw it here and now as an evidence of my sincerity, I move that Captain Wylie and Mr. Collier be requested to withdraw their resignations and a vote of confidence be passed."

A RISING VOTE OF CONFIDENCE.

Before the motion could be seconded, Mr. Phelan rose and explained Mr. Collier's position as he understood it.

He was followed by Mr. Castleman, who protested against the resignations being accepted.

He was followed by Mr. Castleman, who protested against the resignations being accepted. Nobody, he said, could be found so thoroughly fitted to fill the vacancies.

A rising vote was taken on the motion introduced by Mr. Spalding, and the alacrity with which every man sprang to his feet left no doubt of the sentiment of the board.

"I appreciate your kindness." said Cantain

"I appreciate your kindness," said Captain Wylie, "and I withdraw my resignation." A great deal of applause followed. When quiet was restored Captain Wylie said he would withdraw Mr. Collier's resignation and if he were not satisfied he could submit it at the yest receiping.

If he were not satisfied he could submit it at the next meeting.

After a few matters of routine business had been considered, President Wylie was authorized to appoint a committee to procure a new electric engine, and another to see if any arrangement could be made to take the city water to the exposition ground.

The meeting then adjourned.

Whereas, It is with feelings of heart felt sorrow that it has pleased Almighty God in His allwise providence to remove from us our distinguished fellow citizen, the Hon. Henry W. Grady. His loss is no ordinary one. Long will it be felt. His breast contained a heart susceptible of the noblest emotions and whose every pulsation was the echo of the purest feelings of patriotism land devotion to his country. Therefore be it resolved,
1. Resolved, That as an orator, statesman and journalist, Henry W. Grady's name will adorn the highest page in the history of this country.
2. Resolved, That the name of Grady is identified with the history of Georgia and his memory will be forever cherished among the dearest and worthlest of her sons.
3. Resolved, That we as farmers affectionately sympathize and tender to his afflicted and bereaved family our sincere condolements upon their irreparable loss.
4. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be reaved family our sincers of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased, and a page of our record book be left to his memory.

ATLANTA, Ga., February 18.—EDITORS CONSTITUON: On yesterday I received a letter dated Hobebach, Germany, from our fellow townsman, Sigmund Rosenfield, among other things he says: "The sad news of the death of Henry Grady, one of the noblest sons the state of Georgia had, I regret to say I have learned on my arrival at Southhampton. I can assure you I was shocked to hear it, for Atlanta has lost a valuable citizen, the south their great pacificator between the two sectons. It is my opinion his equal in that line will be hard to be replaced. Inclosed I send you $5 to be placed to the Grady memorial fund. My admiration of the man was great. Ldo hope the fund will swell to such an extent that one of the finest monuments will be erected that any man in the country ever had eretced, as I know no one that is more entitled to it than Grady." In obedience to his wishes I hereby hand you the money. Yours, etc.,

A committee was appointed to select suitable quarters for the club.

Nominations were then able quarters for the club.

Nominations were then made for officers.
Mr. J. M. Stephens had no opposition for president. Mr. E. W. Palmer was nominated for first vice-president; Mr. H. F. E. Clarkson, treasurer, land Mr. H. H. Jackson, secretary.

Nominations were made for a board of managers to consist of five members, and a committee on membership to consist of three.

The election will be had at the next meeting, which will be held the second Tuesday in March at the Atlanta Zouaves armory.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one, and interest in the matter is growing rapidly. A unique feature of the meeting was that the proceedings were recorded by phonograph. THE LIBERTY MESSIAH

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., February 19.—[Spe-MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., February 19.—[Special.]—The Liberty county Messiah, who has been confined in the asylum here since his famous leadership among the negroes of Liberty, created a small panie in the dining room of the convalescent building a day or so ago. This new Messiah is a powerful frame of manhood, more than six feet in heighth and heavy weighted in proportion. His eyes are slightly squinted, and his jet black hair streams down his shoulders. His appearance sends a feeling of awe through the other patients, and his shambling figure is closely watched when he is about. The other day he arose from the dinner table with a hideous expression on his face, and began tossing plates, etc., toward the dinner table with a hideous expression on his face, and began tossing plates, etc., toward the ceiling, gasping in a slow, gutteral voice: "De-a-t-h! His long locks, wherein his divinity probably ling growther gligured and he was gent to the Polk Superior Court in Session.

Cedatrown, Ga., February 19.—[Special.]
The second week of the Polk superior court is now in progress. It has been on the criminal docket since Monday, which will consume tomorrow, at least. Judge Maddox has labored under the disadvantage of being quite unwell, but has gone bravely on. Solicitor-General C. G. Ganes is sick, unable to be present, and Colonel Richardson has ably represented the state. Colonel Broyles, of Atlanta; Fouche, Featherstone, Hamilton and Clements, of Rome; McBride, of Tallapoosa, are in attendance.

A Change.—The meeting of the Young Men's Prayer association, of the Central Presbyterian church, has been changed from Friday to Thurs-day night.

They Depart Today.—Professor Windsor, the phrenologist, and Mrs. Lilia D. Windsor, his wife leave the city today for Birmingham. Since he came to Atlanta, Professor Windsor has made many friends who regret his departure to other fields.

AT THE THEATER.

Miss Charlotte Thompson, an excellent ac-ress, supported by a fairly strong company, resented "Jane Eyre" at DeGive's last night. The audience was not what it should have een, for Miss Thompson is one of the strongest emotional actresses on the American stage. Her "Jane Eyre" has been seen here be-fore. There is little to be added to what has already been said of her acting. She is par-ticularly strong in plays of the emotional class, and last night was seen to excellent advantage.

Of her company, Mr. Valentine and Mr.
Stephens deserve especial mention. Mr. Valentine's rendition of the role of Achille DeLeon was a thoroughly artistic bit of acting. MrF. evance was only fair as Lord Roche The other members of the company were hardly above the mediocre. At the matinee today, Miss Thompson will appear in "East Lynne;" tonight, "Hearts cinnati with more than customary enthusiasm.

Miss Vickers has remarkable powers of fascination combined with an oddity of deportment and manner, which make her performances unique. She is pretty and engaging in the comedy scenes, and she can command pathos as well as excite mirth. She is clever in her acting, agile in her movements and spontaneous in humor. Miss Vickers is endowed with plenty of genuine talent as well as many personal attractions; whether she is singing or dancing or love-making, you will find yourself carried away by the spirit and go of her acting.

find yourself carried away by the spirit and go of her acting.

The play, "Jacquine; or Paste and Diamonds,' is from the pen of that celebraten author, Charles Gaylor. The story it tells serves well the purpose for which it was evidently written—to amuse the public and display versatile talents of the principal members of the company.

Miss Vickers is, of course, the life and soul of this strange medley. She at once takes the audience into her confidence, as all comic actresses are bound to do, and she has the art to understand how to arrest their attention. Her support is good.

A PROTRACTED MEETING

To Be Started at the First Baptist Church Next Month. There was a church meeting at the First Baptist church last night, which was largely

Dr. Hawthorne presided, and Mr. R. A. Monteith acted as secretary. The meeting was one of interest, and it was decided to start a protracted meeting at the First church on the second Sunday in March. The Rev. Carter H. Jones, of Knoxville, the gifted son of Rev. Dr. J. William Jones, of Atlanta, will be invited to assist in conducting the neetings, and Mr. W. W. Bentley, one of New York's sweetest singers, will be in attendance. Interesting talks were made by Major M. C. Kiser, Mr. H. H. Cabiniss, Colonel B. F. Ab-bott, Colonel H. C. Hilliard, Mr. Alex W. Bealer and others.

By a rising vote the congregation unanin usly decided to invite the Southern Bantist convention to meet at the First church in May, 1891. This will be the annual meeting of the convention. It has not met in Atlanta since 1879, and the members of the church feel certain that Atlanta's invitation will be accepted.

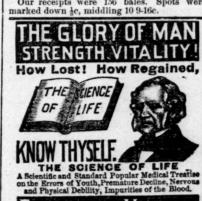

THE COTTON MARKET. The Improvement Yesterday Was Very

Sight-Receipts Small. Liverpool closed firm yesterday at an advance of 2 to 3-6d from the closing of the day previous, for futures. Spots were easy with sales of 5,000 bales at unchanged prices. Receipts were 16,000 bales.

On the better showing from Liverpool the New York market opened about two points higher and it was thought that prices would higher and it was thought that prices would advance considerable but the opening prices were improved only one to two points, closing at two to four points above Tuesday.

Trading was very dull, the sales being only 62,200 bales. The bears attributed the light receipts to the holiday in New Orleans, where only forty-four bales were received. Spots were unchanged at 11½.

Our receipts were 156 bales. Spots were marked down ½c, middling 10 9-16c.

LADY OF THE HOUSE — Do you still like our Charter Oak Stove as well as when we first got it, Mory?

SERVANT—Oh, every bit as well, Ma'am.

LADY OF THE HOUSE—I am expecting a friend to take dinner with us next week, on purpose to show her how nice our stove cooks everything, and I want you to have a nice dinner for us SERVANT—Indeed I will, Ma'am. There's no trouble to cook nice with that stove. The Wive Gause Oven Doors makes it so much easier than other stoves I have been used to, and I have so much more time to make everything just right. Just look at that roll! I never have bed luck with bread, biscuits or cake, now.

LADY OF THE HOUSE—Why, how do you explain it?

SERVANT—Well, I don't have to watch everything so close for fear it will burn. You know how careful you have to be with a taked custard, it is so apt to burn on top before it is baked through. The Charter Oak bakes it perfectly without any danger of burning. And then in roasting a turkey, I don't have to keep basting it every five minutes. It roasts beautifully brown without it, and without drying it up like the tight ovens do. And you know how crisp the biscuits are without being hard and tough. You always praised my biscuits, but if it wasn't for the wire gauze oven door I know they wouldn't be near as nice. I hope I'll never have to cook anywhere again where they haven't got a Charter Oak Stove or grange.

FERTILIZER FIGURES.

THE SALES LARGELY INCREASED OVER LAST YEAR.

KE

The Discovery of New Phosphate Beds Will Have a Tendency to Keep Prices Where They Are Now.

SAVANNAH, Ga., February 19 .- [Special.]-Recently the fertilizer manufacturers have suffered considerably from the lack of cars at the disposal of the railroad companies. Large orders from different parts of Georgia and ad-joining states have been countermanded, owing to their inability to ship promptly. This state of affairs is probably due to the unusual early CAUSED BY THE OPEN WINTER. Owing to the open winter, farmers ordered their spring supplies from four to eight weeks in advance of previous years, and the country merchants who handle the fertilizers, in their desire to help their patrons, got to work, have worried the manufacturers by mail, and some-times in person. The demand for fertilizers is heavier than ever before. The end of the season will show sales through Savannah offices fully twenty per cent greater than last year. This may be due in part to the reduction in the prices of some grades of nearly ten per cent. This spring the farmer is paying $1.50 to $2 less per ton than he did last year.

THE FERTILIZER FRES. Of this saving forty cents is the result of the reduction in the inspection fee from fifty cents a ton to ten cents. For a long time many farmers opposed this reduction, they laboring under the impression that the money came out of the manufacturers' pockets. Now they see their mistake, and are quite glad that the last legislature displayed its common sense by cutting the fee down so materially. Then there has been a reduction in freights of 20 per cent on an average, which also means so much more money in the farmer's pocket. The good prices received for last year's cotton crop has also been instrumental in increasing the purchases of fertilizers. There has been but a small extension of the territory tributary to Savannah during the past year. Next year, though, with the completion of the southbound and new connections of the Central, there will be quite an addition to the field to be worked by the traveling men, and fully as great an increase in sales is expected again as is reported for this season.

EFFECT OF NEW DISCOVERIES. The general feeling among Savannah fertiltrer men, with regard to the recent discoveries of phosphate beds in Florida, is that their sole effect will be to keep prices just about where they are. They will not succeed in lowering them, but will prevent any raise by acting as a check on the Carolina people, who have recently manifested a disposition to stiffen up prices, preparatory to an advance.

ECONOMICAL FARM LIFE. An Interesting Talk With a Progressive

the way to arrive at it, was read by Mr. James J. Conner, who lives near Cartersville, and who is one of Bartow's most progressive farmers. The paper treated of many questions interesting to the farmer, and has been highly complimented.

Speaking to a Constitution representative on this subject, Mr. Conner said: "My estimates were made not from the actual cost of a farmer's living, but on what ought to be the cost under the circumstances which should surround the economical farmer." and the economical farmer.'

"What in your judgment should these surroundings be?"

"First come the home. His aim should be to make his home as attractive as possible, and he should remember that it is economy to have all the conveniences which make the house work easy and pleasant. He should also have comfortable quarters for his stock, with such conveniences for feeding and handling them as will make the work easy."

"After these things have been considered comes the handling and planting of your crops: and right here I want to say that there is no spot of which we have any knowledge that will respond more freely to kind and proper treatment than will the tillable soil of Bartow county. Let the farmer, by all means, so arrange his crops as to raise such things as are eatable for his family and his stock. Let the idea of home consumption be absolutely uppermost in his mind when his crop is pitched."

"How can farms be cultivated with the least labor so as to yield profit?"

"By devoting large areas to grasses and clover. These crops enrich the soil, require very little cultivation and pay well. Besides this it enables you to concentrate your working force on your other crops."

"What is your opinion as to the comparative merits of the extensive and intensive systems of farming?"

"The latter is best by all odds. In planting

"What is your opinion as to the comparative merits of the extensive and intensive systems of farming?"

"The latter is best by all odds. In planting crops which require constant labor for their cultivation have an eye single to that word which is not so common in farm parlance; that word is "intensive," and it means, reduced to its last analysis, big production from little acreage. It will curtail your labor and expense and intrease your profits.

"A farmer should raise all the live stock of all kinds that he can, and in raising stock should breed good blood. The growth of your stock, like your grass and clover crops, make no demand on you for labor wages.

"To sum up, the farmer should plant less ground in cultivated crops, enrich his soil where he does plant, and intensify his farming operations, thereby getting large productions from small acreage. This will decrease the labor and increase the profits, which is the key to the whole network of farming operations."

MILKMEN KICKING. A Card from the Milkmen of the City of ATLANTA, Ga., February 19, 1890.—Editors Constitution: On the 5th instant, there was published a piece in "the Atlanta Journal," which was quite a reflection on the dealers in milk in the city of Atlanta. The piece was infamously false and injurious to the dealers of that article, as the public was not put on notice as to who the party was, who was thus swindling the public. Quite a number engaged in that particular enterprise framed a petition and presented it to the editor of the Atlanta Journal, which is herewith inclosed, but not only was our request not granted, but we were absolutely ignored. We consider it due us, as the article is calculated and has really affected all dealers in milk, "hat we should know the name of the person at whose instance it was published, in order that such dishonest dealings may be ferited out and put where it belongs, if true. When you think your children have worms, ask your druggist for Dr. Bull's Worm Destroyers, and do not take any other. They taste good and are always sure.

SOME PEOPLE YOU MEET.

A newspaper nomad, but by no means a newspaper tramp, a man who has seen the world and has studied it intelligently, a rolling stone, but a gentlemanly "roller"—such is James Irving Crabbe, who lectured a few evenings since, at St. Luke's cathedral.

"It might be considered a reflection upon a newspaper man's ability when you stated that he had been on twenty-three newspapers in twenty years," said Mr. Crabbe, yesterday, "but I don't see why it should. You wouldn't criticise the minister who left one station to go to another which was better, and I don't see why the same rule should not apply to the newspaper profession. I have made a great many changes, and in that way have seen a great deal of this country and of the world." "Burmah and the Burmese" was the subject of Mr. Crabbe's lecture. As soon as he was out of college-he is an Englishman-he competed for a position in the civil service and was sent to Burmah.

"The remuneration was fair," he says, "and we had a happy life. As the pay was regulated by the amount of country I covered, you may be sure that I saw a great deal. A picturesque country it is, too—a country where elephants are as common as mules here, and one where every man can read and write."

"How does that happen?"
"The Burmese have the best public schools in the world. Their system is perfect. There you find compulsory education and its best results. The same is true of Japan, where I spent some time. Children are made to go to There is no illiteracy among those people whom we are pleased to call heathen."

Mr. Crabbe lectures as he talks, in a chatty way that is most attractive.

Chief Joyner has a word to say about large audiences at the theater.

"Sometimes when there are crowds at evening performances of matinees," he said, "I re-ceive many telephone messages urging that I be there to look after the fire regulations. This was the case at the 'Fauntleroy' matinee. I suppose no less than a dozen people telephoned me on that day. I wish you would say that at every performance at the opera house two of my men are there on duty. I am not you will always find some of my very best men there. There is absolutly no reason to fear trouble or a panic. The fire regulations are excellent, and we are always as hand to look of fur the select of the result. on hand to look after the safety of the people All of which is strictly true. "Cap" and his men are there at every performance, and they keep a close watch on the stage and off

Hon. "Lon" Mustin, of Madison, will be a candidate for re-election to the house, where he served the people of his county so faithfully and so well in the last legislature. It is not likely that he will have any opposition

Hon. Fleming duBignon, of Savannah, spent yesterday in Atlanta, having come for the pur-pose of attending to some legal business for the Southern Express company.

Congressman Barnes doesn't mince matters in his discussion of the present administra-tion. In his letter to the Sharon gentlemen who wrote him about the obnoxious postmaster he said: "I understand the situation here fully under this administration. In my judgment it is the most radical we have have had since the war." Then he adds a word of hope-"I can only say to our people be patient, and our time will come after while."

Down at Sharon, after the excitement over the arrest of the Sharonites had worn off, a discussion of the congressional race in the

"In my judgment," said one of the most prominent merchants, . "the race between Barnes and Tom Watson is going to be a close one. If it is reduced to a contest on the stump, you may look to see Watson wipe up the ground with his gigantic opponent."

"But it won't be that sort of a fight," interposed several gentlemen. Then one explained, "George Barnes is too shrewd to make that sort of a race. He has made a good congressman, has taken care of his constituents, and he's a mixer. Just let him get among the people and he'll get the votes.

Congressman Carlton is not going to have a walk-over in his race for re-election. One of is constituents, who knows as well as anybody which way the wind blows in the ninth district, was at the Kimball yesterday.

"Dr. Carlton will make a strong race," he said, "but you will find the first initial of the name of the next congressman from our district is not C. It is L, and Judge Lawson is the man I mean."

"Does the judge want the place?" "The best answer I know is that his friends everywhere are very actively at work for him. If he's not the next member of congress from our district, I am no prophet."

This means just as it reads. The following persens are all reliable. I have hundreds of other statements similar to these in my office:
Colonel Wash Roach, attorney-at-law, 132 Broughton street, Savannah, Ga., says that he has for five years suffered with severe stricture and ulceration of the rectum. After having tried many of the most eminent physicians in Georgia, and having traveled nearly all over the country in search of health, I found no relief until I put myself under Dr. W. J. Tucker, and in the short space of three moths I find myself nearly well.

Mrs. H. P. Stevens, an estimable lady of Way-cross, Ga., says: Five years ago I was given up to die by the best physicians of southeast, Georgia, all of whom said I could not live but a few weeks. As the last resot I determined to try Dr. W. J. Tucker, of Atlanta, Ga. In less than three months the doctor had me restored to health. I am confident I would have died had it not been for his marvelous skill.

W. H. Phillips, Simsboro, La., says: I have suffered for ten years with liver disease and chronic diarrhoea, and after being treated by Dr. W. J. Tucker a very short time an almost entirely well.

Dr. Fred B. Palmer, Atlanta, Ga., one of the Look into the Depths of this wonderful health-giving fluid, and there behold the exquisite reflex of the picture which, on imbibing, bursts forth into a living reality—perfect in form and features, glorious in health and loveliness, absolutely free from physical ailment or blemish. ... IN THE SPRING MONTHS Nature should be assisted when the system is changing from the full habit of the winter months to the lighter diet of the warm season. Nothing does this as well as S. S. S. It stimulates the sluggish blood and rids the system of heaviness and the feeling of languor. If there is poison in the blood, it generally shows itself in the spring, and this is the season to help nature to drive it out and be cured.

Mrs. J. H. Seme, Dawson, Ga., says: I have experienced the most remarkable benefit from Dr. W. J. Tucker's treatment, gained fitteen or twenty pounds in the last few months. I advise all suffering ladies to give him a trial.

Hon. E. E. Foy, Egypt, Ga., says as suffered for many years with a chronic malady, was cured by Dr. W. J. Tucker three years ago, and loses no opportunity to tell the afflicted of Dr. Tucker's skill.

The above statements are all file they were not, and if you do not believe me, write to the parties and satisfy yourself. I treat successfully chronic diseases and weaknesses of both sexes. Southern Iron for Pittsburg. The rapid development of the Alabama town of Sheffield recently is in many respects a vindication of the foresight of those Atlanta men whose investments in the town, when there was no town there, painted it with the rosy hues of a genuine boom.

The boom died out to some extent, but Sheffield and its possibilities remained, and they have been growing and spreading ever since. The town is five years old and can count a new furnace for each year. Its 'booming' days are over, and it has now arrived at the age of genuine progress and real productiveness.

A town aged five years cannot be said to be a veteran in any line of industry, but Sheffield is old enough to send a very substantial challenge to Pittsburg, the iron center of the United States. Tuesday Sheffield shipped to Pittsburg nine barge loads of pig iron. It is in the nature of a greeting that will be responded to by a hearty salvo of shekels, so to speak.

There are two elements of significance in this item of information-first, the shipment Itself, and, second, the manner of it. The shipment is in part a fulfillment of the prediction so often made that the south would shortly compel the northern iron masters to seriously feel the effect of its competition. We say, in part, because this competition has already made itself felt in Pennsylvania, and has had the effect of controlling in som degree the price of iron.

The manner of the shipment is equally important. The nine barge loads of pig iron will go to Pittburg by way of the Tennesse and Ohio rivers. The fact gives Sheffield an immense advantage in the iron business. The barges carried five thousand tons, and the difference in rates of transportation (as compared with railway charges) shows a difference of $13,000, or $2.60 per ton, in favor of the water route.

This saving on one shipment means great deal for the future development of Sheffield, and, indeed, for the development of all the southern iron fields.

About Canning Factories.

The Tennille Enterprise has taken the trouble to obtain a reliable estimate of the cost of a canning factory.

Almost any kind of building will do—an old warehouse, store, any sheltered place. The boiler, engine, machinery for making cans, and the fixtures for a factory that will pack 10,000 cans a day can be had for $2,000.

Any small town in Georgia can secure plenty of cheap labor. Women, girls and boys are able to do nearly all the work in a canning factory. At present we have no market for the bulk of our vegetables and fruits. If we can them they will always command a market. and the money will be kept at home. There is not much danger of over-production in this industry. A city like Atlanta should more large canning factories, and they should be tried on a smaller scale in our towns. They would be of great benefit not only to our farmers but to our suburban gardeners. Within our city limits there are hundreds of persons who raise a big surplus of fruit and vegetables which they cannot sell. With a canning factory at their doors they would be able to put a snug little sum of money in their pockets every year without extra trouble.

This industry, conducted properly, is profitable one, and it requires very little money to start it. Some of our enterprising young men should look into it.

A New Insurance Wrinkle.

A cable dispatch last week stated that one of the leading life insurance companies in Vienna had decided to dispense with medical examinations and certificates, and accept or reject applicants upon their own formal unts of their physical condition.

The explanation was made that medical examinations cost more than they were worth, and that an applicant's full and deliberate answers to the questions put to him threw all the light upon the situation that was needed.

The New York Sun has interviewed several prominent life insurance men upon the Vienna method, and they do not hesitate to express their disapproval. The experiment across the water will be watched with interest, but it is not likely that the companies in this country will be in a hurry to test it themselves.

The Siege of a Soul. Mr. William Taylor, a clerk in Hoboken,

New Jersey, had a strange adventure, the other night. Taylor was about to close his office for the night when a woman walked in and asked for his employer. When informed that he had gone home the woman fell on her knees and began praying for the clerk.

All this was embarrassing, and Taylor remested her to leave. The visitor refused to go. The clerk was afraid to leave her in the office while he went out for a policeman, and so he remained, hoping that she would

But the woman could not be persuaded to go. She prayed in German, Swedish and English. About midnight the clerk made a determined effort to get rid of the intruder. He failed, and then made himself comfortable on a couple of chairs. The female evangelist prayed right along all night, occasionally pausing for a few minutes to rest herself. In the morning the proprietor of the office found his clerk dozing the chairs. The woman explained that the Lord had commanded her to prav all night to save Taylor's soul, but as that ing man was swearing at her in a very excited manner it was painfully evident that she had done more harm than good. The two men succeeded in making her leave, but the Hoboken clerks are now afraid to remain in their offices after dark, and whenever a woman with a Salvation Army expression makes her appearance there is a riotous rush for the street. An all night prayer siege is too much for the average New Jersey ness man, especially when his wife is waiting for him at home

Where Is the Surplus?

Under the democratic administration of the government, which was honest and economical, the surplus in the treasury grew so large that it threatened to become an issue. Mr. Cleveland wrote a special message discussing its bearing on taxation, and statesmen and newspapers concerned themselves with it. It was something more than an issue-it was a danger, and the democrats were preparing to take advantage of it to materially reduce taxation, and thus give the people the benefit of the accumulation of their money in the treasury. But where is the surplus low? The question is an interesting one, but it is a sufficient answer to say that the republicans have had it in charge for nearly a year. Such an answer as that covers everything and explains everything. The ways and means committee, however, think that some other explanation is necessary.

This committee, it will be remembered, started out with the idea of reducing taxation and the surplus by cutting off revenue in various directions; but this programme has undergone material change. The committee say they will repeal the tobacco tax 'unless it is found that the revenue cannot be spared." In other words, the committee have come to the conclusion that the needs of the party will not leave any surplus in the treasury.

The treasury report estimates that there will be a surplus of $92,000,000 in the treasury at the close of the present fiscal year. But the ways and means committee find that all this surplus will be needed to meet the demands for new expenditures under the great and good republican administration.

"Liberal appropriations" is the name for this scandalous waste of the people's money.

New and Old Reforms. There is nothing alarming about Bellamyism and Georgeism. In every age genuine progress marches over dead reforms. The reader will say that we are speaking of isms. Undoubtedly, but let us be parliamentary, and call them what their followers called them-reforms.

Noting the recent birthday of Susan B. Anthony, the Chicago Herald gives a resume of the whirlwind of reform in which she has been gyrating for the past half century. One of her early contemporaries was Garririson, who wanted to abolish, not only slavery, but the constitution and the govern ment. He was for spiritualism and Grahamism, and claimed that he drew his inspiration directly from God, and was amenable only to the higher law. Nathaniel Parker Rogers took the ground that there should be no human government, and that every man should be a law unto himself. One reformer advised his followers not to touch money or pay taxes. He said that all trade should be barter. Another man fancied that he looked like Jesus, and went about trying to persuade people to imitate him. Father Lam son wanted every man to wear long hair and whiskers, and carry a scythe in order to bring on the millennium. In those days a sect arose with the declaration that the God worshipped by the Christians was really the devil. Parker Pillsbury compared churches to brothels and gaming houses, and organized men to visit churches every Sunday and interrupt the services. A crowd of men and women came to the front advo cating perfectionism, adventism, vegetarian ism, mesmerism, spiritualism, Grahamism, Fourrierism, free-loveism, Fanny Wrightism, non-resistance, no government, and antireligion. Wendell Phillips worked for disunion and never stopped until after the downfall of the confederacy. Brownson argued that a man who thought the same way six months must necessarily be wrong. The reau lived in a hut to show the world that a man could live on fifteen dollars a year. Brook farm was organized as a sort of commune, and came near being broken up by a gentleman who claimed the right to sit down at the dinner table in the costume of Adam. One society taught that all knowledge wa inborn, and that no teaching was necessary. Another claimed that the perfected man could work miracles.

What did all these reformers accomplish? Emerson says that they filled the world with long words and long hair. This list embraces only a few of the socalled reforms of the last generation. We can afford to be patient and tolerant. The professional reformer says terrible and startling things, but he is not a very bad fellow. He simply wants to mind his neighbor's business instead of his own. He wants to pose on platforms and figure in the newspapers. He wants to live without work, and make himself comfortable by passing around the hat. He will run his course, and then leave the stage to his successor who may be expected to perform his great specialty of a windbag in convulsions with signal success.

Let us deal gently with these alleged reformers. All they want is our support financial support—a share of our daily bread. Let us give it to them. When we fill their yawning hats we make them happy.

The Hoar Bill. Senator Hoar's bill, prescribing "in part the election of members of congress," is a more sinister measure than appears on the surface. The avowed intention of the measure is to prevent the democrats of the Ohio legislature from revising the republican gerrymander of the congressional districts of that

But the bill is purely a partisan affair, and is intended in a roundabout and an indirect manner, to procure a declaration on the part of congress that it has the right to interfere in the congressional districts of a state. This declaration once made, the force bill, which has been promoted and advocated by republicans of the Bill Chandler stripe, folws as a natural result. Indeed, the Hoar bill, as it stands, is as obnoxious as the Chandler force bill. Its purpose is to give congress control of the congressional districts in all matters pertaining to their formation and adjustment. Under this bill, the congressional districts are to be kept just as they are until congress shall order or proceed to make a new apportion ment under the new census of 1890. The members of the next congress, if the Hoar bill becomes a law, will have to be elected from the present districts, and after that it is expected that a succeeding republi-can congress will redistrict the states as well as apportion the population. In other words, the districts are to be held as they are in order that Quay and the administration may know what they are doing, and then when a new republican congress is elected, a federal gerrymander is to take place which, it is hoped, will keep the republican party in power indefinitely.

An Apostle of Hate. The Rev. Joseph Cook, of Boston, hopes to revive his declining popularity by assuming the role of a sensational partisan.

At Tremont temple, last Monday, Mr.
Cook attacked the late Henry Grady's Boston speech. He denounced the address as treasonable, and said that nothing more atrociously insulting to northern sentiment had been heard since a southern senator threatened to call the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill.

Mr. Cook will find that he stands alone in his insane paroxysm of hate. Republicans and democrats alike have pronounc Mr. Grady's speech the most eloquent plea for peace and union, and law and order, that was ever heard in Boston. The charge that it contained a single treasonable sentiment is as absurdly false as Mr. Cook's deliberate repetition of the notorious lie about the threat of a southern senator to call the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill.

If Joseph Cook chooses to steal the liverly of heaven to serve the devil in, he must take the consequences. In this reunited country there is absolutely no room for an apostle of hate.

Railroad Time and Reform.

Cincinnati has at last succumbed to the "standard" time fiend, but it consoles us to know that there is one city in the United States that had common sense enough to stick to real time so long. We are under the impression that Savannah—our own forest city-turned her broad back on the "standard" time several months ago. If this is the case. Savannah is now the only city in the country that has the distinction of looking at clocks that tell the truth in the oldashioned way.

Atlanta embraced the "standard" time most heartily, doubtless with the view of leading the procession in that as well as in other things. The older heads of the town no doubt perceive the utter absurdity of the whole business, but some of the younger ones are of the opinion that something is accomplished by saying that a train leaves Atlanta at 1:50, when in fact it leaves at 2:30. We have seen long and learned explanaions of the benefits of this sort of thing, but we are not certain that either travelers or trains get along better now than when they were moving along under the awful shadow of the truth. It is said that the new scheme of prevarication helps trains to run on schedule time-just how we do not know. But as time bears a definite relation to distance, why not come to their aid in that important matter? Why not say, for instance, that Savannah is only one hundred and forty miles distant from Atlanta? This would doubtless be a great comfort both to railroads and those who travel on them. Truth is mighty and will prevail.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THE Chicago Herald tells this bright story "When Dr. Tiffany preached the word of God in Chicago, his brethren all knew that he loved fine-cut, because he made no secret of the chewing habit. He was a regular attendant at those Monday morning 'ministers' meetings' which the average reporter hates, but which are really enjoyable on account of the bright sayings and clever within cisms of preachers who do not think they are for-bidden to indulge in a hearty laugh because they occupy a pulpit. While Dr. Tiffany was a participant in these meetings the tobacco habit ca pant in these meetings the totacco habit came up for discussion one morning. A well-known bishop was presiding. One after another the brethren rose and condemned the use of tobacco in any form. Then one of them, during a lull, said he would like to hear Dr. Tiffany's ideas on the subhave all those who do not use tobacco rise in their have all those who do not use topacco rise in their seats.' There was a grand uprising. 'Remain standing, please,' said the doctor, as he looked over the cadaverous men standing before him. 'Will those who use tobacco please step forward here?' he said, and a half dozen sleek-looking particularly in the property of the said, and a half dozen sleek-looking particularly in the said. sons walked up and joined him. 'Stand up, bi you're a chewer,' he said to the presiding divine, and he joined the group. Dr. Tiffany then looked over the thin fellows who tabooed tobacco, turned to the healthy-looking men around him and said: 'Brethren, I think we are doing pretty well.' The argument was unanswerable."

When Dr. Talmage was told of the attack upon him in the New York Sun he promptly said that he had not read it. He makes it a point never to read such articles, and he never replies to newspaper criticisms. In this way he keeps in good health and spirits. As for the writer in the Sun the doctor sends him his blessing, following out the injunction of the good book to "Bless them that curse you, and pray for them that despitely use you and curse you." If the Sun wants war it will have to do all the fighting. Dr. Talmage declines to take a hand in it. o take a hand in it.

EWS OF INTEREST FROM THE VA RIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

Murderer Is Transcreed from the Penitentiary to the Asylum-Interest Action of the Adjutant-General

It was another busy day at the capitol yes terday. The governor's most important action was in the transfer of Taylor, who killed Senator Field, to the asylum. The adjutant-ge eral's office proved a good news source.

Governor Gordon issued the papers yesterday norning authorizing the removal of Davis J.

Caylor from the Dade county convict camp to the Milledgeville lunatic asylum. Taylor last year committed the unnatural crime of murdering Judge Sam Field, his adopted father and benefactor. The murder and the trial of Taylor created a great sensation at the time it occurred. It will be remembered by all who took an interest in the matter. How Judge Field found young Taylor when he was a little boy without a legitimate father, and how he took pity on him and brought him up, trying to the best of his ability to create for the lad a better future than he could otherwise expect. One evening Judge stock had been greatly neglected. He told thing occurred again he would whip him. The next night when he returned home he found Taylor talking to several young men and in his hand he held a gun. Judge Field held a small switch, and when he was within a few paces of the party, and before a word had been spoken Taylor raised his weapon and discharged it in the face of his friend and benefactor, killing him in-

At the trial it was proved that the young murderer had suffered from epileptic fits since his boyhood, and a doubt of his sanity saved his life, and he was sentenced to imprisonment for life. Since his incarceration the fits have returned with greater violence, and it became evident to the prison authorities that he was dangerously insane. A commission of lunacy was sworn out recently before the Dade county authorities, and Governor Gordon's action yesterday ies, and Governor Gordon's action yesterday s the final act in the drama.

Military Matters.

Adjutant-General Kell received yesterday the resignation of Captain T. S. Wylly, of the McIntosh Light Dragoons, and also that of Robert H. Knox, the first lieutenant of the same company. Captain Wyly's election to fill the position of first major of the first regiment of Georgia Cavalry made his resignation necessary. Lieutenant Knox gave no reason for the action he has taken.

The Georgia Huzzars. Adjutant-General Kell issued an order yesterday directing Colonel Gordon to examine the following officers: G. P. Pritchard, for captain of the Georgia Huzzars; Beirne Gordon, for first lieutenant, and Abraham Minis, as second lieutenant, of the same company. The Georgia Huzzars was formerly commanded by Colonel Gordon, and when he was elected to his present position an entirely new staff of officers was chosen.

A new report book was forwarded by Adjutant-General Kell to the commanders of all companies, which they will be obliged to keep and have ready for inspection at any time. In the new book a record of all drills and parades will be kept. The number of officers and also the privates present at each drill will be noted, and attached to each report is an affidavit which the commanding officer is required to sign, stating condition in which he finds his men. order to avoid confusion the reports of the drills will be kept in black ink and those of parades will be kept in red ink. Each book contains the blank reports for seventy-two drills or nareades.

Colonel Northen is Here. Colonel W. J. Northen was at the capito resterday, and passed some time conferring Waddell. He said he had come to Atlanta partly to see his son and partly to promote business. He consulted with Colonel Waddell on the next state fair in which he greatly interested. Colonel Waddell de ined to take charge of a department, as his is greatly interested. Colonel Waddell e-clined to take charge of a department, as duties as assistant commissioner of agriculty require his entire attention. He told Colon Northern, however, that he was entirely Northern, however, that he was entirely at his service, and if he was needed he would do nis service, and if he was needed he would do all in his power to promote the interests of the fair. Colonel Northern declined to talk on political matters. He said, however, that he had been misquoted on several occasions and expected to be so in the future.

GEORGIA POLITICS.

"The principal reasons," says the Lithonia New Era, "that we have not nominated a DeKalb county man for governor, is that nobody seems anxious for that position. We have no "patriots" when it costs from $8,000 to $12,000 to fill a $3,000 position. We are money loving and a money saving people We can't even get a man to serve as mayor of Li e receives a 'large' salary "And now," says the Lawrenceville Herald, "Colonel Candler is being boomed for governor. Well, we could go farther and fare worse—much worse. Allen is a wheel-horse wherever you put him to work. There would be no stealing under his administration, and he would keep the wheels in the same olds ruts they have bee ning in for eight years."

Editor Gazoway Hartridge, of the Savannah Times, and family are in Thomasville where they will remain for several weeks on account of the health of Mr. Hartridge.

"Soon the political pot will begin to boil," says the Pike County Journal, "and all the machinery put in motion, that professional politicians may keep to the front. All such should be dropped and good men put in their places, but let no man bring keep to the front. All such should be dropped and good men put in their places, but let no man bring himself before the people as a mendicant for an office. The people know who have principle, which is always better than party, and if they do not know how they want to vote when the time comes they had far better stay at home than to be made cat's-paws of to help their enemies and ruin their friends, as many do who vote as they are rold."

"It takes no prophet to see that the people of Georgia are going to make an effort to secure a reformation in the Georgia legislature. She has made a reputation for long sessions and narrow policy men in the legislature. They do not vote straight from the head and heart, but cast their votes as "catchers," always catering to the popu-lar movement, whether it be sound or not. We know that our legislators are selected to represent their respective constituencies, and are honor-bound to respect their wants, but he has been se-lected as one who can see farther than the com-mon herd, and if he fails to study the interests of his constituency and vote from conviction, though it be against the popular current, he is not fit for the position he holds. It is very seldom that a man loses anything to himself or county by being hopest. Besides the policy class of members, there is a class that does nothing much but drink whisky and revel. Squads of them can be found almost any time during the session debauching and making asses of themselves. This is no hearsay. We have seen it. The people are finding out the facts and they are going to have something to say about it in the future."—Carnesville Enterprise.

Says the Rockdale Banner:

"Hon. W. J. Northen and Hon. L. F. Livingston crossed swords a little, figuratively speaking, in the meeting of the State Agricultural society last week at Hawkinsville, just enough to show clearly that a gubernatorial race between these two emi-nent Georgians would be very interesting."

"There is beginning to be considerable talk about who will be the next candidate for congress in this district," says the Elberton Gazette. "It is generally understood that Mr. Carlton will be in the field, with Hon. F. H. Colley, of Wilkes, as a probable candidate. There are others whose names are mentioned, but the strongest man in the district, in our judgment, is Judge T. J. Law-son, of Putnam, and if he is a candidate, we will make the prediction that he will be our next con-

From the Charleston News and Courier. Mayor Glenn, of Atlanta, made a very thought-ful speech at the banquet of the chamber of com-merce last week. It was not long, and it was free from meretricious rhetoric, but it was manly in is evidently a democrat on principle. Among other things, he said:

"Gentlemen, it is needless for me to say that we have accepted in good faith the new dispensation, assuming all its responsibilities, and intending under all circumstances to do our duty, but we assuming all its responsibilities, and intending under all circumstances to do our duty, but we still cling in spite of change and progress to some of the old-fashioned notions of the past. We believe that 'honesty is the best policy,' not alone in dealings between judyiduals, but also between the government and the people. Deception in legislation is as dishonest as cheating in business, and the government robber under form of law is morally as guilty as the highway robber in violation of law. We have not forgotten the old-time maxim that this government was established, and should be so administered, as to 'do the greatest good to the greatest number,' and that classes and privileges were unknown to the fathers, and are antagonistic to every theory upon which our government is based.

"We believe in supporting the government

"We believe in supporting the government mainly by a tariff—a tariff laid for revenue only, and just enough revenue for its economical sup and just enough revenue for its economical support.

"We believe that the government, federal and state, as the creator, is superior to any and all its creatures, and that when the question of control arises the creator should control the creature and not the creature the creator. But do not understand me as saying that the south is lagging behind. We are trying to keep abreast with the times, but we know that these are living principles upon which our government should ever rest, and that all reform or progress which swings loose from them will be hurful and cannot last."

We venture to say that the northern republican who heard Mayor Glenn were more impressed by the sincerity and manlines of his brief but elo quent speech than they were by the gush of son of the long-winded and plattudiness orators wi of the long-winded and platitudiness orators who made the Kimball house to ring with the reverberations of their sonorousness. LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. A Card from Captain Hendrix.

A Card from Captain Hendrix.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Your report of the proceedings of council, in Tuesday morning's issue, reports me wrong as to what I said when the veto of the mayor was before the general council. A number of suggestions had been made as to the proper motion to be made in disposing of the veto. During the discussion I said that one, and, I thought, the best way to dispose of the veto was for the presiding officer to put the question to the general council, "Shall the ordinance now pass, notwithstanding the veto of the mayor?" and if less than two-thirds voted for the ordinance the veto would be sustained." I did not say pass it over the head of the mayor; in fact, I thought the mayor was right on the law question, and my saggestion was only as to the most proper way of disposing of the question. I should not have noticed this report had it not been generally known that the mayor and myself were not any too harmonious, and, while I might dislike some acts of an official, I never would allow my personal feelings to control my official action. A Self-Made Mos.

From the Augusta News.
In 1865, just after the close of the war, there appeared in Atlanta an ungainly looking youth, with a decidedly rural appearance in every portion of his get up. This youth, like hundreds of others, came to that desolated spot without any well defined ideas of what he would do or how long he nned neas of what he would do or how long as would remain. This young man was Junius 6- Ogiesby, of Elbert county. He had served in the war, and of course, lost eyerything he had, save 2- strong will, an honest heart and an unusually bright intellect. He was not long in finding a situation with a wholesale crossry house and at one "took intellect. He was not long in finding a situation with a wholesale grocery house and at once "took the road." His uncommonly good sense, strict integrity, sobriety and attention to business soon won for him a partnership in one of the leading grocery houses of that city. As time passed, and the city grew, Mr. Oglesby's fortune increased until today he is considered one of the leading perchants and best housess was of Allanta. Al-ways modest and quiet in his deportment, it was after much pursuasion on the part of his friends that he consented to accept the very honorable and responsible position of president of the At-lanta chamber of commerce, an organization of which its members represent and control millions of dollars.

At the recent banquet tendered by this body to a large number of the most distinguished and wealthy citizens of the north and west, Mr. Oglesby, as president, presided, and with what dignity and tact those who have read the proceedings of last Thursday's dinner at the , Kimball house, can readily observe.

Atlanta Company to Be Given a Million and a Half in Stock of a New Com-pany—The Trade Offered.

The Brosius Motor Machine company is about to perfect a most important deal. It is a deal which means much for the company and for Atlanta.

For some time past negotiations have been pending between the Atlanta company and a northern syndicate, by which the northern company is to have control of certain territory. The first authentic news came yesterday. The details have not yet been arranged, but this much is known.

For some days past Messrs. James, Zachry, Brosius and G. A. Howell, who are among the largest holders of Brosius stock, have been in New York in consultation with northern capitalists.

An agreement has been reached in New York for the organization there of a company with a large cash capital to control the Brosius patents for the north and west.

Under this agreement, the Atlanta company is to receive $1,500,000 of the stock of the new company as payment for the use of its patents. The organization of this company has not yet been perfected, but this will doubtless be done within a few days. CAPTAIN BROSIUS WON'T TALK. Captain J. M. Brosius, the inventor and one of the heaviest stockholders in the company, has returned from New York. He was asked yesterday if there was any truth in the rumor that the deal was consummated. "I can only say," he replied, "that negotiations have been pending for sometime. As to the exact state of affairs now, I am not at liberty to talk."

"What about the amount?"

"To say anything now would interfere materially with the plans of the company. I am sorry that these rumors were started. Within three or four days though I hope to be able to give something definite."

THE ALLIANCE EXCHANGE.

The Board of Directors Will Today Hold Their First Meeting in the New Quarters.

Preparations were made yesterday for the meeting of the board of directors of the Alliance exchange which will take place today.

The board room in the new quarters of the exchange was thoroughly cleaned and enough new chairs to accommodate all the members of the board were purchased and placed in po-Sition.

The matter of the greatest interest which rill be considered today is the adoption of the mew charter which was granted recently by the superior court. Besides this, other subjects of great interest to the alliance will be discussed and the meeting will be a long one.

Mrs. Green was a member of the Methodist church, and was an earnest and devoted Christian. She was 21 years of age and had no children. Her death was caused by pneumonia and was a cruel blow to those who loved her so dearly.

Rev. J. R. King, pastor of Walker-street Methodist church, will conduct the funeral services at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The remains will be taken to Hancock county for interment this evening.

Mrs. Lawrence's Funeral.

Mrs. Lawrence's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Lawrence will probably occur tomorrow. An account of her sad death appeared in these columns yesterday. Telegrams were sent to several points in search of her husband, Mr. T. Lawrence, who is a commercial traveller. He was finally located at New Orleans, and answered that he would arrive in the city today. Messrs. Wylie and Barclay will arrange for the funeral as soon as he arrives.

SURGEON OF THE GEORGIA PACIFIC.

That Is the Position to Which Dr. Elkin Is Appointed.

Dr. W. S. Elkin has been appointed surgeon of the Georgia Pacific railroad.

Technically the position is that of surgeon of the "Georgia Pacific division of the Richmond and Danville railroad," and the appointment was made by Chief Surgeon Ross, of the Richmond and Danville.

The selection is an excellent one. and if a change was to be made no better man could have been chosen. The change has been much talked about, and the news of Dr. Elkin's appointment will be read with interest. Dr. Elkin is an excellent surgeon. He has been in Atlanta nine or ten years, and no man has more friends.

In Railroad Circles.

Mr. G. W. Jackson, the newly appointed city passenger agent of the East Tennessee, arrived in Atlanta yesterday and assumed charge of his new position. Mr. Jackson is from Little Rock, Ark. He takes the place of Mr. Sam Ray, who resigned to go with the Queen and Crescent in December.

Mr. Charles H. Cromwell, of the Atlanta and West Point, Montgomery, was here yesterday. Mr. W. T. Rodgers, traveling passenger agent of the Western and Atlantic, Chattanooga, was in Atlanta yesterday.

Mr. Bishop Clay, traveling passenger agent of the Monon route, was registered yesterday at the Kimball. In Railroad Circles.

THE SHOOTING OF AN ITALIAN BAR-KEEPER IN MACON.

The Injured Man Declares He Will Not Rest Until the Man Who Shot Him Is Brought to Justice.

LA VENDETTA.

"It's only a blind to throw me of the track,

but it wont work."

The words were spoken with an Italian ac cent, by the barkeeper, Berni, who was shot Christmas night by Jim Matthews, in the Commercial hotel bar at Macon.

He has declared a vendetta.
"No, sir, I don't believe he is dead, and I'll hunt him down and prosecute him, if it takes the balance of my life," continued Berni, with an emphasis which showed that he mean

Berni is at present stopping in Atlanta. He came up from Macon last Friday. Before going to Macon, three months ago, he had lived in Atlanta for four years and is very well known here. Most of the time he was in the employ of W. E. Hayne & Son, tending a fruit stand on Wall street.

Berni had been shown a copy of yesterday's Constitution containing a dispatch from Denver, Colorado, in which an account of Matthews's death in that city several days ago was given. "I don't believe there is a bit of truth in that," he continued. "Its only gotten up to throw the law off his track so he can go free. But it won't do. I don't believe Matthews is any more dead than I am-not half so near, and just as soon as I get able I will hunt him out and bring him to the law. I'll make him suffer a little for what he made me suffer." It has been only within the past week that Berni has been able to be about. At one time it was thought he would die, and even now is not considered out of danger from the wound. The readers of THE CONSTITUTION are familiar with the story of the shooting, with the flight of Matthews, the man who did the shooting, and the report of his sudden death in In Macon there are many who question the veracity of the reported death of Matthews, and the arrival of the remains, which have been ordered sent to that city from Denver, is looked to with interest.

"If he's dead, why don't they send the body back," said Berni. "It's h to get there by this time." "It's had plenty of time

Berni firmly believes that the newspaper accounts of Matthews' death are "faked;" that they have all been written by his friends, who want to throw dust in his eyes and finally induce him to forget the matter, when Matthews will, more than likely, turn up all right.

The grand jury of Bibb county has indicted Matthews, and, up to the report of his death, every effort was being made to apprehend him. When the news of the death was telegraphed when the news of the death was telegraphed to Matthew's relatives the remains were ordered sent to Macon at once. This was last Friday, and the body has not yet reached there. This gave rise to Berni's belief, and he says he will never be satisfied that his assailant is no more until he sees the remains with his own

But the reports from Denver came through the legitimate channels, and it is more than probable that they are correct, and that Berni will have to declare the "vendetta" off.

THE CORONER'S INQUEST.

Investigating the Killing of Wash Steele Monday Night.

Yesterday morning Dr. J. C. Avary, coroner of Fulton county, empanelled a jury to investigate the killing of Wash Steele, who was stabbed on Battle street Monday night.

A number of witnesses were examined, but very little light was thrown on the case.

It was shown that Steele was with Lattimore, trying to carry a man named Blos Backus to his home near the Technological school. A crowd, among whom were Claude Love, Jim Ward and Jim Kyle, was on the street, drinking and acting very boisterously. Backus says they had been cursing and abusing him for some time before he started home, and he believed that the blow was intended for him that cost Steele his life.

Nobody could swear just who struck the blow, but suspicion points very strongly to Claude Love, as the police officers who investigated the case were told that Love said he did it after

Kicked Down Stairs.

Kicked Down Stairs.

Last night a crowd of young men were upstairs at No. 22½ East Alabama street, when a row originated among them. During the course of the affray, George Simpson was kicked down stairs and his back struck the iron front at the door, knocking him senseless. He was pretty badly hurt, but finally recovered sufficiently to walk. He claimed that four United States soldiers were his assailants, and Patrolmen Jessie Jordan and J. B. Harris arrested them. Two of them, Privates Edward Fox and Charles Allen, were released on bond for their appearance today. The others were dismissed.

THE AUCTION SEASON TO BE OPENED NEXT WEEK.

Fifty Choice Lots to Be Sold at Inman Park Next Thursday—Other Sales on Tues-day and Wednesday.

The real estate auction season is at hand. Next week the ball will be opened, and from then on the dealers and investors will be in

The real estate men are all jubilant over the outlook. The past few months have been un-usually brisk in all branches of the business, and they are confident that this augurs a season wonderful activity. Suburban preperty is regarded with especial

One of the first auction sales, and one of the most important that is likely to occur during the season, is that of the East Atlanta Land company at Inman park.

The Inman park sale will be held on the 27th of this month—next Thursday.

Fifty of the choicest lots in the park, by all odds the most beautiful and select suburb about Atlanta, will be offered for sale. Such an opportunity to secure such an enchanting home site will probably not occur again, at east not in the near future. The Inman park sale has been announced but a few days, but since the East Atlanta Land company first made it known, the coming auction has been the subject of a great deal of interest, both in real estate circles and among many who have looked with longing eyes on the beauties of this elegant residence suburb.

No expense or labor has been spared to make Inman park perfect in beauty, perfect in con-venience and perfect in all the elements which go to make up the ideal home resort.

Columns have been covered with descriptions of its beauty and healthful surroundings, of its artistic walks and drives and the grace fully terraced and velvety green lawns, only awaiting the magnificent structures that are to occupy them, but with it all, no extrava-gance has been committed, for it would be impossible to exceed the rare advantages of Inman park. Many recall the great sale of lots by the East Atlanta Land company about a year ago, when the improving and beautifying was but barely begun, and not a building had been erected on any part of the grounds. Then the possibilities of the matchless location and the natural beau ties of the situation and surroundings were in the nature of a revelation to those who flocked out there to attend the sale. But just as the park was a surprise then, just so will it be two fold more attractive and levely to those who may attend next week's sale.

A year ago the prices paid for the Inman park lots, while apparently quite high, were looked upon by the purchasers as every way reasonable. The lots have steadily advanced in value, and today it would be difficult to find a man who bought at the first sale who would be willing to part with his bargain at a reasonable advance. This may be taken as a traw to show which way the real estate wind

But probably the best cyidence of all of the popularity of Inman park, is the number and character of the homes which have been built character of the homes which have been built there since it was opened to the public.

No somer had the auctioneer left the ground than the contractors and builders took possession, and now a dozen or more elegant homes are scattered here and there through the park, some completed and others yet in the hands of the builders.

People who bought the lots bought them to build homes on. There are quite a number of handsome structures not yet begun, but plans for which are being drawn by architects.

Only a few days ago, Mr. E. F. Gould, ofthe Traders' bank, paid $7,500 for a lot in the park. His plans for a $15,000 home are now in the hands of his architect, and the building will be commenced in a very short time.

in the hands of his architect, and the building will be commenced in a very short time.

Within the past few days the demand for lots has been unusually ibrisk, and the Land company has been kept busy with customers who are anxious to buy at fixed prices before, the auction sale, which they anticipate will considerably raise the valuation of the property.

considerably raise the valuation of the property.

At the first sale the crowd was taken out on the Georgia railroad. Next week the Edgewood avenue electric line will perform that duty. All along this symmetrical avenue the old houses are being removed, and it is only a question of a short while when it will be built up with fine residences, in keeping with those at its terminus in Inman park.

The East Atlanta Land company owns most of the property along Edgewood avenue, and this insures its final building up with elegant residences.

residences.
With this assurance and all the splendid advantages of Inman park, and the superbly equipped double-track electric railway line, and approach paved from end to end, there is every ground for the prediction that the sale of next Thursday will be in the nature of a real extate event. real estate event.

The fifty lots which will be offered for sale are among the most desirable in the park.

Among real estate men, the sale is regarded as most important, and doubtless the big crowd of last year's sale will be duplicated.

Remember the 27th—Thursday—Inman park sale of lots. SOME OTHER AUCTION SALES.

Samuel W. Goode & Co., will open the auction season next Tuesday, the 25th.
On that day the old "Ivie" place on Whitehall street will be offered to the highest bidder. The property consists of a lot 78x215 feet with a six room residence on it.

Solomon May, of Hamilton county, Ohio, was the seller, and the price was eight thousand dollars.

The property is about a block this side of Georgia avenue, and is most desirable in every way.

Messrs. Krouse & Welch made two quite large sales yesterday.

One was for Mr. Stewart Woodson, the place recently bought by him, 105x200 feet, on Washington street. Two months ago Mr. Woodson gave 88,500 for the place, and by yesterday's sale, to Mrs. Lucy H. Sweeney, he clears just $1,000, the price paid by her being $9,500 cash.

Messrs. Krouse & Welch also sold for Mr. George W. Parrott, 50x200 feet, on North Pryor street, between Houston and Wheat, for $8,500. Mr. H. F. Emery was the purchaser.

Marian Harland on Soup-Making. In the course of my explorations, I was directed by a friend who had tested their products, to the building occupied by the Franco-American Food company, New York.

by a friend who had tested their products, to the building occupied by the Franco-American Food company, New York.

What I saw and learned of real soup-making—honest, clean and appetizing—I propose, still in the interest of American housewives, to relate as frankly as I would expose the iniquities of conventioual "canning," did diaphragm and taste allow me to undertake the task.

Beginning with the raw material, I, an unexpected visitor, found in the larder huge shins of beef; chickens, dressed and whole, fair, plump and free from the suspicion of taint; calves heads, white and firm; mutton and veal in prime order; barrels of healthy vegetables; parsely, celery and other soup herbs; all the appliances needful for the manufacture of divers kindg of soup in a private family, but on a gigantic scale.

This is the opinion of Marian Harland on a small scale, embodied in a book on soup-making, which we will present free to any one who will ake for one at our store.

We have all kinds, such as Green Turtle, Terrapin, Mock Turtle, Ox Tail, Melligatawney, Consomme, Julienne Chicken, Vegetable, Puntanier, Beef-Mutton Broth, Tomato, Pea and French Boulion, all of which are delightful, and should be tried to be appreciated.

Do you want some first-class, dark Buckwheat and pure Maple Syrup for breakfast? If so, we can supply you.

Then if you have a bad cold and want some pure Honey, which is good for all pulmonic affections, we have that also. If you want the best Jersey Butter in Atlanta, we have it. Remember this, because we know good butter is hard to find. We have just received fresh invoices of Pineapple Chese, Edam and Neufchatel. Also small love Han, from six to ten pounds, B. The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock

NEW YORK, February 19—The stock market today was again active and weak, the bears making the most determined drive, which they have done for a long time, and the effort was crowned with marked success. The decline in Rook Island still remains unchanged and although friends of the company assert that the annual report will show company assert that the annual report will show a surplus over dividend, sthere is an impression on the street that some one is selling out, and holders are beginning to feel uneasy. Today considerable long stocks came out and helped along the decline, though the bears got more help from the traders than from that sonree. The general list does not act in sympathy with weakness in the grangers, but the heaviness resulted from an indisposition to enter resulted from an indisposition to enter into new ventures, engendered by the decline in those stocks. The action of the trunk lines in re-fusing to quote rates west of Chicago confines the fight to that territory, and the only sufferers by will be lines in that section, and printhe cutting with be lines in that section, and prin-cipally Rock Island, and Burlington and Quiney. In accordance with this fact the last named stock was savagely attacked in conjunction with Rock and, and while it was not active, it kept pace with it in the downward movement, and three per cent had been knocked off of its value before the re-action appeared, and that was for a small fracre-action appeared, and that was for a small fraction only. Pressure was tendered towards Louis-ville and Nashville and Tennessee coal today, and both were seriously depressed, though the former recovered most of its loss, while the drop of 5½ per cent in the latter was only partailly regained. Other specialties, such as Oregon Short Line, Big Four, and some others felt the weakness particularly, and little recovery was made except in the Big Four. The bears are sain working the money scare notwithstanding. was made except in the Big Four. The bears are again working the money scare, notwithstanding that rates on call got no higher than 4½ per cent and loans were made as low as 2 per cent, while funds were offering at 1 per cent without takers at the close. Considerable business was done in Lackawanna, Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific, but while all three were materially lower than their highest prices, during the afternoon a recovery took place, which brought them all up to within a small fraction of last night's close. The only really strong stock on the list was Jorsey Central which, however, is lifted by its friends, whenever it seems necessary to do so, and its movements had no influence on the remainder of Central is up 1½, but Burlington after allowing for the dividends, is down 2½, Rock Island 1½, and Oregon Short Line 2¾. Exchange quiet and weaker at 4831/24871/2.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, February 19-[Special]—The Liverpool market today closes firm at an advance of from 223-54d as compared with yesterday's closing. The strongest positions are May and June and June and July contracts, and it is now an open secret that the hero of last year's manipulation, Mr. Steinstrand, intends to corner either Juue or July in the Liverpool market. The chances of his success we regard as doubtful, especially in view of the fact that the Liverpool stock at that time will probably be very large, and consist to a greater extent than for many years of cotton that is tenderable upon a low middling contract. The advance in Liverpool being so generally attributed to manipulation has had comparatively little effect upon prices here, and trading during the entire day has been very dull, the final figures being only some 3@4 points above those of yesterday. Receipts have been very light in consequence of the holiday at New Orleans yesterday, and the fact that only 44 bales were received there today. For tomorrow, however, a heavier movement is expected. Letters today received from abroad advise that the bank of Bengal has advanced its discount rate to 11 per cent, which argues badly discount rate to 11 per cent, which argues badly for the East Indian trade, and our cables continue very pessimistic in tone as regards trade in Man-chester. We quote as follows from a letter today received from Gainesville, Georgia: "In my opin-ion there is rather more cotton left in the country than at this time last year, as the idea of ex-tremely high prices this spring and summer is very general among the planters.

HUBBARD, PRICE & Co.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, February 19—Futures opened quite buoyantly on a stronger turn to Liverpool futures, although spots there continued dull and Manchester accounts showed no improvement. At 11.37 for August a reaction set in, but in the last half hour, when small receipts were assured, there was hour, when small receipts were assured, there was renewed buying, which restored the market to nearly the best figures of the day, although the interior movement showed pretty full figures, especially at Augusta and Cincinnati. It still looks as if the bulls are as much off as the bears were when prices were a cent a pound lower.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

Grein and Provisions.

CHICAGO, February 19—A very fair business was transacted in wheat, and the feeling developed was firm. The market had the appearance of doing better, though operators were disposed to act cautiously. There was good buying, possibly to cover shorts, but, while orders were quite large at times, it was noticed that offetings were being quietly absorbed and generally resulted in a reletly absorbed and generallly resulted in a re Reports of colder weather in the west had some influence on the market, as did also advices confirming the crop damage in Australia. There was a large trade during the first hour, after which the market became rather quiet. Corn—The heaviness which has prevailed for several days disappeared in a measure, and there eral days disappeared in a measure, and there was good buying, particularly of May and July. The better tone was attributed to receipts not running as large as of late. Talk about the Canadian government taking the import duty off of corn had a stimulating influence, and no doubt induced considerable buying. The market opened strong a shade above the closing price of yesterday, and under a good demand advanced ½c, receded some, ruled firmer and closed ½6% better than year. ruled firmer and closed 1/2% better than yes-

Oats were unsettled, but a fair volume of business was transacted. The market opened easy, but soon became firm, the strength in wheat and but soon became firm, the strength in wheat and corn helping considerably. There was fair buying, and prices for May and June advanced ¼c. On the buige there was large offerings, but later a recession to opening prices followed. EX-POLICEMAN D. A. HOYLE BADLY HURT LAST NIGHT.

Loses His Footing on the Engine, and Falling, His Head Is Struck by a Journal Which Fractures His Skull.

Mr. D. A. Hoyle was badly hurt last night. He was at work in the yards of the Western and Atlantic railroad, and was on his engine, which was running at a moderate rate of speed.

He lost his footing in some way, and slipped and fell to the ground, with his head next to the train. A journal of one of the wheels struck him on the back of the head and plowed through the scalp, fracturing the skull and tearing two big wounds on his head. Dr. H. P. Cooper was telephoned, and when he arrived at the scene of the accident he found the man unconscious and in a desperate condition. He had him removed to his office on Wall street, where Mr. Hoyle's wounds were dressed. He was then placed in the city ambulance and sent to his home at No. 3 Elliott street.

Dr. Cooper considers the wound a very se rious one, and it may prove fatal. He was still alive, but suffering a great deal, at a late hour. Mr. Hoyle was a member of the police force several years ago. He is a man of middle age, and has a family. He is well known, and has many friends in the city.

State Sunday-School Association.

The executive committee of this association met yesterday at the Young Men's Christian association building, and decided the date of holding the next annual convention. It will convene at Thomasville, April 29th, and con-tinue three or four days. This convention will be a very important one, and will doubtless be largely attended. All papers throughout the state that are friendly to the Sunday-school cause will confer a favor by publishing these

Boils and Carbuncles

Boils and Carbuncles

It seems strange that any one will suffer with boils, carbuncles, etc., when Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla will certainly prevent all such cruptive tendencies. It is a sure and safe antidote for blood poison arising from whatever source, and its use when needed should not be unnecessarily delayed. Thousands who found extensively advertised blood mydicines to have no efficacy whatever, are rejoicing in the fact that Bull's Sarsaparilla is an exception, and that good health invariably follows its use. Syphilitic and scrofulous symptoms disappear, the skin becomes clear and free from pimples, the digestion is imptoved, aches and pains ccase, the weight of the blood becomes greater, the flesh more solid, ulcerative and consumptive tendencies disappear, the power of endurance is increased, weakness, dizzy spells and unnatural fatigue vanish, in a word the user of Bull's Sarsaparilla becomes a picture of good health and strength. Try it. Use no other.—Dayton Enquirer.

WILL TAKE STOCK

IN THE MASONIC TEMPLE IN PAY-MENT FOR THEIR WORK.

F. M. Hight & Co. Make a Novel Propos tion-Will Others Follow-The Propo-sition and What It Means.

The proposed Masonic temple is being talked of on all sides.

Members of the Masonic fraternity are, of course, greatly interested in the movement and are enthusiastic in their belief of its suc-cess. But in addition to these, very many peo-ple, not Masons, have signified their intention to take stock.

Here comes a novel proposition:
Messrs. F. M. Hight & Co., southern managers of the Ruttan-Smead system of heating and ventilating, offer to put in their heaters and ventilators and take their pay in Masonic temple stock.

Their letter making the proposition was received yesterday. It says:

ATLANTA, Ga., February 18, 1896.—Hon. W. A. Hemphill, Constitution—Dear Sir: We will heat and ventilate the Masonic temple with the Ruttan– Smead system and take stock in the company in

Perhaps dealers in other lines of building material will do the same and help the good work along. Yours very truly. F. M. Hiour & Co. Colonel E. K. Chamberlain, resident mem-ber of the firm of F. M. Hight & Co., and manager of the business, said:

"We are anxious to see such a building as the one proposed erected here. It would be a monument and an honor to Atlanta, and to aid in securing it we are willing to do all in our power. Our proposition is just as stated in my letter to Mr. Hemphill—we will heat and ventillate the building by putting in our system, and will take our pay in stock. I believe there ought to be a good many others to follow us in this matter. Certainly they would not help a better cause."

It will be remembered that Hight & Co. have contributed their heating and ventilating apparatus to the Confederate Veterans' home The system is one which has proven a very great success here in Atlanta, where it has been used in some of the public school buildings, as well as in other parts of the south. Now the question naturally arises,

Who will be the next? Will other people whose goods are needed in the building follow the example of F. M. Hight & Co. ?

The people are greatly interested in the Masonic temple, and anything that tends to bring about its erection will be appreciated. Who next?

Peculiar in medicinal merit and wonderfucures—Hood's Sarsaparilla. Now is the time to take it, for now it will do the most good. Inherited Blood Polson

How many people there are whose distress from sores, aches, pains and eruptive tendencies are due to inherited blood poison. Bad blood passes from parent to child, and it therefore is the duty of husband and wrife to keep their blood pure.

of husband and wrife to keep their blood pure. This is easily accomplished by a timely use of B.B. B. (Botanie Blood Balm). Send to Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, for book of most convincing proof.

James Hill, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "My two sons were afflicted with blood poison, which doctors said was hereditary. They both broke out in sores and eruptions which B. B. B. promptly controlled and finally cured completely."

Mrs. S. M. Williams, Sandy, Texas, writes: "My three poor afflicted children, who inherited blood will sell on the premises, 50 of the very best un-mproved lots in "Inman Park." Each lot is a em, possessing every conceivable advantage for pleasant home. a pleasant home.

FEBRUARY 27TH, 1890,

The entire park property is sub-divided with the very best taste by a landscape engineer, with an eye to symetry, topography and prospective effect—wide streets and avenues—convenient back entries and turning ground in rear of lots, where needed—all capitally provided for. See lithographed plets entries and turning ground in rear of lots, where needed—all capitally provided for. See lithographed plats.

The lake, the lawns, the grass, all blend in giving beauty to the grounds.

Then the approach to the park, over Edgewood avenue with its fine paved drive and smooth, swift electric transit, is a luxury in its self, and ten minutes will put you out of the heart of the city into fresh air, pure water, shade, music of birds and the balm of the forest. But, no word-painting can do the lovely spot justice.

Those beautiful lots at "Delta Place," in fact the choicest lots on "Edgewood avenue," "Euclid avenue," "Waverly Way," Ehzabeth, Decatur and Spruce streets, will be sold.

All who want homes with perfect titles, are requested to go out in person. Each lot is staked off and numbered. Go and examine for yourself and take your wife, the best part of yourself, with you, and select a lot. You cannot make a mistake when all are so desirable.

The terms are liberal and titles perfect.

One-third cash; talance in one and two years with? per cent interest.

All visitors to the sale will be conveyed there and returned by the "Edgewood Electric Cars."

To the Public:

We take this means of calling your attention to our extensive line of crockery, glassware, chandeliers, lamps and general bric-a-brac. During the past season we have had an unprecedented sale, and have made customers in all the southern states. The fact that we sell strictly a firstclass line of goods and at prices our competitors cannot touch, has brought about our increased business, for which we feel very thankful.

We beg to call your attention to our line of goods as they lie upon our shelves today. We have the largest and best stock of fine IM-PORTED CROEKERY and glassware that there is in the southern states. We make a specialty of the famous HAVILAND CHINA, and sell it at a very low figure. It must be remembered that our stock consists of DIRECT IMPORTA-TIONS from the leading houses of Europe, and that all of our goods are strictly first-class and warranted. Call at our store and inspect them.
